

THE POWER OF DYNAMIC LEADERSHIP

In turbulent times of increased competition, challenging technology adaptations, sky-high expectations and an increasingly hybrid or remote workforce, organizations can underestimate the return they can generate by investing in the preparation and strategic development of managers and leaders that spearhead the operation. Learn how to inspire and empower those leaders in this intuitive and interactive workshop.

GOALS & EXPECTATIONS

This engaging, interactive workshop will empower you and your organization to create the ultimate competitive advantage. If you have management responsibility and/or leadership aspirations, we will give you the tools, hard and soft skills and resources you need to master the leadership mindset and succeed in the workplace, as you learn and network with other professionals.

The Dynamic Leadership team, Jim Round and Jim Best, have over 60 years of combined experience in developing and mentoring high-performing leaders and managers in various vertical markets. They share a proven track record of building sustainable and positive winning-cultures, and a passion for enabling others with the tools they need to reach success through sharing their work and life experience.
